

Students who feel God has called them into full time ministry

Mark Fleenor was called to Missions on The 2006 Amazon Trip. He is currently finishing his training with MAF or Mission Aviation Fellowship in Alaska.

Tyler Kesler called to the ministry while on a Bahamas Mission trip...Graduated from Taylor Univ. and seeking a job in full time job in youth ministry and hopes one day to serve on the mission field with his wife Erin Fitzgerald Kesler.

Katie Moore was a regular attendee of CCPC youth group. She graduated from UT and now serves in full time ministry with Operation Backyard in Knoxville.

Greg Gibson was called to be a pastor Amazon 2006. He is currently serving as a youth pastor and finishing his final year of seminary.

Nick French attended CCPC youth and went on a wilderness trip where he was called to full time ministry. He transferred from UT two years ago to attend Johnson Bible College in hopes of getting a Bible degree and becoming a full time minister.

Thomas Gentry was a regular at CCPC youth ministry and is now attending Belmont Univ.. and feels God maybe calling him to be a Missionary pilot. Plans to attend Amazon Mission trip to Ecuador this next summer to get a hands on look at MAF.

Weston Duke attended CCPC youth group regularly and went on numerous mission trips. He will attend seminary at RTS after he graduates from UT in communications. Weston has served as a camp counselor for the past 2 summers at Camp Alpine.

Jordan Hays attended CCPC youth group regularly and went on to get his degree at UT. He is now working fulltime with Young Life at Windy Gap in N.C.

Lawson Cheek has recently graduated from Colorado Christian Univ. and doing a 1 year internship in China. Lawson plans to attend Seminary when he returns from China in hopes that God will give him more direction at that point.

Alicia Huxtable attended youth regularly at CCPC. She is currently getting her college degree but hopes to be in full time missions. She is currently dating a guy who is in med school and wants to be a Doctor on the mission field.

Will Glafenhien a life long member of CCPC who attended many mission trips feels God is now calling him into full time missions. He is finishing his final year at UT and plans to go asap.

Devon Morgan attended CCPC youth group and participated on many mission trips. Devon has finished her degree at UT and feels God is calling her to full time missions.

Matt Hall life was radically changed at CCPC while in High School. Served as a youth intern at CCPC and is currently serving in the Marines. After his service in the Marines is complete .Matt has indicated that he may seek to serve in full time ministry.

Josh McRee attended CCPC youth group and went on many of the mission trips as he possibly could. He is now attending MTSU to get a degree in the recording industry and use it for the Lord in full time ministry. Josh just spent his summer working with Campus Crusade where he received extensive evangelism training.

Will Dallery who went on a mission trip to Bahamas and several wilderness trips with the youth at CCPC is now attending UTC and feels the Lord is calling him to full time ministry. He was hand picked as a student leader and is very active in a large student ministry at UTC called The House and served as a counselor at Camp Alpine this past summer.

Christopher Pifer who attended CCPC regularly and went on a wilderness trip is now attending Covenant College with hopes to go into full time outdoor ministry.

Christopher Jeager who attended CCPC religiously, went on wilderness trip, many mission trips feels God maybe calling him to full time youth ministry. Plans to attend Covenant College for his degree in youth ministry.

Geoff Horne attended CCPC youth group regularly. He went on wilderness trips and mission trips and feels like God is calling him to full time ministry some where down the line.

John Glafenhien attended CCPC youth regularly and went on many mission trips. He is now getting his degree at UT and feels God maybe calling him into full time ministry. He served as a camp counselor this past summer at Camp Cedar Cliff at the Billy Graham Convention Center in Ashville, N.C.

Matt Huddleston attended CCPC and went on several mission trips. Matt has spent this past year doing a student training in Birmingham, Al. called 24/7. This is an intense one year training for students wanting to go into full time ministry. Matt is getting his Bachelor's Degree from UAB in Psychology with his sights on full or part time ministry.

Austin Ritchie attended CCPC and went on wilderness and mission trips. He is now attending UT getting his degree in Spanish language and World Business. He feels there is a great possibility that God maybe calling him to full time ministry that would utilize his degree from UT.

Rebecca Fleenor who was in the CCPC youth group and attended several of the mission trips feels God is calling her to full time missions in India. She is presently at The Univ. of Alabama getting her Bachelors Degree.

Patti Donovan was a regular attendee of CCPC youth group and went on many of the trips. She has felt Gods call on her to go into full time missions and is now attending CIU in hopes to receive her degree and go to the mission field.

Josh Lambert who is a senior in High School and has gone on countless mission trips feels God is calling him into full time Asian missions.

Holly Ford who is a sophomore in High School and went on the Bahamas trip this past summer now feels God has called her into full time missions.

Palmer Gleason who is a sophomore in High School and went on the Bahamas trip this past summer now feels God has called her into full time missions.

Summer Stroud who is a Junior in High School and has gone on several Kentucky mission trips feels God is calling her into full time missions.

Tyler Anders who is a Junior in High School and has gone on numerous mission trips feels God is calling him to full time youth ministry.

Cullen Jones who is a senior in High School and has been on numerous mission trips feels God is calling him to urban ministries to help the less fortunate and possibly the homeless.

